

WOW FACT: This Machine's planning took 6 weeks

How The Turbo Timer can help your dreams come true

When Jack is bored of the English present, he activates his brand new Turbo Timer. This reliable mechanism will help any holiday hiker go to wherever they desire at any certain time at any certain location. Would you like to know what makes it amazing? Then read on.

How it works?

Finding the ultimate urge to time travel Jack puts the wooden pretty pink, brilliant blue, jet black machine on to a flat surface. A giant dome lies with a big red button in the middle. A spring then bounces out from the button and reveals a woollen, cosy, green hat and is placed on excited Jack's head [just to keep him warm during the travel]. Then a small, powerful, white light bulb emerges from the dome. At the same time, a smaller red button comes to life directly next to the light bulb. This causes Jack who was very excited to push the smaller button. As a result the light is shone into Jack's eyes and subsequently catapulted into his dream location.
