

How can the Candy-Time 3001 fix your time

Have you ever wanted to change the past, because if you do want to, then you can step into this time machine and fix all the problems you caused in the past. It's simple so come along and spend 3 years or less in the past, present or future and step into this green and red striped machine (which includes a mirror) and travel to how it works.

How it works

Finding that you can't fix a problem in your life, then come over to the Candy-time 3001, and draw open the multi-colour stripe curtain and insert the dainty yellow key. To clarify the gizmo to work, step into it and knock on the lustrous, glossy mirror 6 times then stare into it for 10 seconds. While these things are happening, turn to the curtain and shut it closed. Furthermore, you must turn to an insainly fast spinner on the wall on the right side and spin it to choose the year and date.

Immediately, turn to face the muddy brown wall at the back of the machine and put the little golden key through the hole. While the key is falling into the little box below, the machine will suddenly start to wiggle, then waggle, then shake. This is because the invention is telling you that it's time to put on the helmet if thinking and when you are going!

If you like this invention and need to use it then just feel free to click your fingers and this contraption will appear right in front of you. If you do I might see you in the past, present or future!!

Warning: You can only spend 3 years or less otherwise you will have to wait until you stop at yopur original time and start ageing again!
