

Pru the gnu

Sue had a gnu named Pru, who liked to sit and croon at the moon. When the wind blew Pru often turned blue and then Sue didn't know what to do – should she keep her at home or take her to the zoo?

At the zoo the keepers fed Pru some juice with a spoon, and fruit, and prune soup.

In June Pru was truly in the mood to go home to Sue. But then she fell in love with Bruce the kangaroo.

Poor Sue! She lost her gnu to a roo!
